1. THE STORY OF SQOON

— Swiss Government TV —

"Planet Earth is in a state of emergency!

Cities all over the world are sinking into the ocean!"

"Even as I speak, my own city is sinking. The water is already up to my knees! I am sacrificing myself for this broadcast. Earth Defense Army has announced that the Neptunians, an underwater race of alien beings, have invaded Earth and are melting the polar ice caps. They are living under the sea and using humans for food!"

Six months ago at the Bankoran Palace on Neptune, the rulers of the planet recognized that their world was dying. It was being turned into desert by falling meteorites. Man-ham livestock, which the Neptunians used for food, was being destroyed. To escape this terrible fate, the Neptunians were forced to move their entire civilization into the sea. They knew they'd be temporarily safe in the sea but would eventually die of starvation.

The Neptunian government therefore decided that the only way to save their people was to invade Earth (where there was plenty of man-ham). They constructed special space ships with giant water tanks for them to live in during the trip, but only the highest government officials and the beautiful Miss Neptune were able to escape before the planet was totally annihilated.

About the time the Neptunians landed on Earth, a pirate named Narikeen was mining gold under the oceans of the world using his submarine SQOON. He was a dastardly pirate and committed all kinds of crimes. When his SQOON was full of gold, he would go into port and trade his gold for grog. But this time, when he tried to go into port, he discovered that it had disappeared. In fact, all the land was gone!

Just then a message came in over his radio:

"MAYDAY—MAYDAY—Narikeen come in please.—
This is the General of the Earth Defense Army—"

The Neptunians are melting the polar ice caps using hot water produced by their bio-factories and all the continents are sinking. The underwater factories are also manufacturing additional warriors to help them capture the Earth. Narikeen Help us!

Narikeen responded to the General's plea by saying "Are you asking ME to help? I am the evil pirate Narikeen! If I help others, my reputation will be ruined! I won't be able to show my face in public again."

"Narikeen, don't say that. Thousands of people are captured in the Neptunians undersea domes. Are you going to allow humans to become Neptunian food?" the General asked.

"Ha ha ha ha! That's what you get for eating so much fish, General! You're not as smart as you thought you were!" said Narikeen.

"Narikeen, please, we need you! The Pentagon has been destroyed by tsunamis and our entire Earth Defense Army is almost completely gone. You are the only one left who can save Earth. If you kill all the Neptunians you will be a hero."

"Really, General?" replied Narikeen. "Well, if even I can become a hero, I'll destroy the Neptunians for the good of the human race. However, SQOON, my submarine, can only carry nine people at a time. I'll need to ferry them to the safety of my small motorized island. And I'll need plenty of fuel to complete my mission."

"You've got it," said the general. "The Neptunians are pretty strong. They won't be easy to defeat. Be careful! I'll send you some enemy data that our intelligence forces have gathered. Study it well."

It is effective but weak.

2. Bow-wow missile

The first time you power-up, your weapon will be upgraded to the Bow-wow missile.

3. Adenoid missile

If you have the Bow-wow missile and power-up again, you will have this weapon at your disposal. It is the most powerful missile available.

★ Horizon Missile

Kills the Neptunians (the enemies).

★ Ice Ball Gun (bottom shooting missile)

Destroys bio hot water factory and enemies. When you break the ocean bottom dome with the ice ball gun, the humans come swimming out. Rescue them quickly and transfer them to the small motorized island to receive energy for SQOON.

HOW TO RESCUE PEOPLE

If you touch the people swimming toward the surface with SQOON, they will be rescued. If SQOON is full (nine people maximum) or is carrying gold and one or more persons, then the small motorized island will appear. When you and the motorized island are aligned on the surface, press the "B" button. The rescued people will be transferred to the motorized island. Rescuing a person is worth 100 points and getting him to the motorized island is worth 200 points.

ENERGY

When you bring nine people, or one person and one gold, to the small motorized island, energy will be dropped. If you can touch the energy, SQOON will be fully powered.

- Energy (fuel) lasts for 60 seconds. When 20 seconds of fuel remain, SQOON will blink and the alarm will sound.
- If energy runs out, you will lose one SQOON, so watch your energy carefully!

Your objective is to visit each country in the world, destroying the Neptunians along the way. The final goal is the North Pole. You will begin at New York.

3. ENEMY DATA

One shot, 200 POINTS

Ikunoko (sea slug)

Look for it around the cities. It picks up the magic necklace that the mermaid Kazumi has dropped. If you hit it with the ice ball a number of times, it will turn into a necklace. If you pick up this necklace and destroy the big hot water factory the balance of ocean energy will be disturbed and you may be able to go to some other dimension of the world. This is a magical bio-iform.

Chikku-kai (crab)

If you shoot it with the ice ball gun, the shell of the crab comes off and you can get the gold inside. Touch the gold to collect it. In a few seconds though, the shell will return and the crab will start walking again. Use your gold well. One gold and one person allows you to refuel from the small motorized island.

20 POINTS

Pirame (flounder)

This is the Neptunian scout. If you are killed by this, you're not doing very well. The Pirame dance around the screen.
