The Story

As you leave your dojo after a strenuous workout, you see a short, uniformed man approach you from a parked luxury sedan. You brace yourself as he comes up to you, stops, then hands you an envelope. His only words to you as you grasp the note is, "For you." He makes a quick bow, turns, and walks back to the automobile.

You notice an eerie scent to the envelope – incense?, as you read your own name scrawled on its surface. Inside is an invitation:

GREETINGS!

Your work in the study of martial arts has awarded you an opportunity beyond your wildest dreams! You are invited to engage in personal combat with eight of the strongest fighters in the world for untold treasures and the glory of becoming the world's finest martial artist! My "Great Fighter's Competition" rewards only the victor – the losers, unfortunately, pay with their lives.

If the honor of besting the elite fighters of the world interests you, you are welcome to the competition. You shall be instructed as to the time and location of the first event.

I truly look forward to seeing you at the competition!

"K"

Hmmm. "Untold treasures, huh?" You ponder the offer as you walk back to your apartment. The cold air whips past you, and the odd little man in the car returns your smile as you stride past him. You feel like you can take on the world!

SURVIVAL

Time Limit

You can turn the time limit on/off.

Sound

Choose between Stereo and Mono sound output.

Speed

You can change the speed of the game play.

Screen Components

1. Power Gauges: These are affected by successful attacks from your opponent. Should this gauge reach zero, the match is over. When the Power Gauge of either player reaches zero, that player loses that round.
2. Scores: These are displayed for each player.
3. Timer: The time limit for the game. The game goes to the player with the best score should time run out during a game. If No Time is selected, the words "No Time" are displayed here.

NOTES: When a letter "C" is shown on the upper part of the screen, it displays the number of games continued.

A "W" indicates the number of victories in the Versus Mode game.

Game Rules

One game consists of three rounds, and the first player to win two rounds is entitled to take their character to the next round of play.

If both players' Power Gauges run out at the same time, it's a Double KO. If they are at the same level when the time runs out, the round is a draw.

When the game runs out of time and both players still have power, the player with the highest power level wins the round.

If the game is prolonged and the fourth round ends in a draw, a final round shall be held.

Weak Spot System

Each character has a unique weak spot. When an attack on a fighter's weak spot inflicts a certain amount of damage, the character will be temporarily stunned and unable to move. After snapping out of it, the character's weak spot will have even less defensive power. So, if your character is "on the ropes," focus your remaining attacks on your opponent's weak spot for a better chance at turning the tables to win the game.

When the weak spot is attacked, it flashes. If it is attacked repeatedly, the flashing continues. If the weak spot suffers enough damage, the player is knocked out. NOTE: For a quicker recovery, RAPIDLY press Left or Right on the Control Pad or the Punch or Kick Buttons.

New Entry and Continues

NEW ENTRY

During CPU Battle Mode, the second player can break into a one player game in progress by pressing the Start Button on the unused Controller.

CONTINUE FUNCTION

If you lose in CPU Battle Mode, the game is over at that point. If you wish to continue playing, press the Start or A Button within ten counts upon completion of the game. A new game starts, and your opponent from the last game is awarded the first move.

NOTE: There is no limit to the number of games you can play continuously.

Basic Operation

The following commands are in effect when the player is facing right. Reverse the actions (when applicable) when the character faces the left.

- The Control Pad
 - Left - Move backward and Upper Body Defense.
 - Down/Left - Lower Body Defense.
 - Down - Squat.
 - Right - Move forward.
 - Up - Jump.

- Punch and Kick Buttons

Y	X	L	Punch Buttons
small	medium	big
B	A	R	Kick Buttons

Throws

Step close to your opponent, then press Left or Right on the Control Pad (depending on which way you want to throw them). Now, depending on the character, press the Punch or Kick Buttons to execute the throw.
